

Denis Leclerc named Chairman of the Board of Directors of International Cleantech Network

Copenhagen (Denmark) – January 5th, 2015: The Board of Directors of International Cleantech Network, an organization based in Copenhagen (Denmark), is pleased to announce the nomination of Mr. Denis Leclerc as Chairman of the Board.

"I am happy to contribute to the development of the International Cleantech Network and to support its members to accelerate the transition to a green economy through clean technology", said Mr. Leclerc.

Mr. Leclerc is President and CEO of Ecotech Quebec, which represents the clean technologies cluster of Quebec. Highly involved in the community, Mr. Leclerc sits also on the board of directors of Ecofuel, the Québec Cleantech Accelerator; on the Executive Committee of SWITCH, the Alliance for a Green Economy; on the Québec Advisory Committee of Minister of Sustainable Development, Environment and the Fight against Climate Change. In addition to being a Chartered Director, Mr. Leclerc holds an MBA from the Université de Sherbrooke.

The International Cleantech Network (ICN) is an exclusive network of cleantech clusters in the world's leading cleantech regions, aiming to generate new business opportunities, enhance competitive advantages and create value for companies, knowledge institutions and local authorities across cluster regions.
